Regular disclosure of data

Basic data of a person may be disclosed for following purposes:

- Breed clubs, breed associations, and kennel districts can process a person's address data via the Omakoira service, if the person does not have an unlisted address and if the person has a qualification required for a certain duty or holds a position of trust.
- Direct marketing, if a person has consented to this.
- Direct marketing approved by the Finnish Kennel Club, if a person has consented to this.
- Data (name, place of residence) is transmitted to the Breeding Database, if the person has consented to this.

Transferring data outside the EU or the EEA

Data is not transferred outside the EU or the EEA.

Principles of register security

The data in the register is protected by technical means. Only designated officials of the Finnish Kennel Club as well as persons holding a specific position of trust and who are in possession of a personal user name and password have access to data in the register.

Right of inspection and right to demand rectification of data

Data subjects have the right to check what personal data concerning them has been recorded to the register. Data subjects can update and revise their personal data and demand rectification of incorrect data concerning them.

Request of inspection, revision or rectification can be made by sending a written and signed request concerning the matter. The request is addressed to the contact person in matters concerning the register.

Other rights regarding the processing of personal data

Data subjects have the right to deny processing of their personal data. This concerns data for which processing is based on a consent given by the data subject.

A request to deny the processing of data or a withdrawal of a previously given consent can be made by sending a written and signed request concerning the matter. The request is addressed to the contact person in matters concerning the register.
